“The Library Noise”

August 18th, 2020, marks the 100th anniversary of the ratification of the 19th Amendment to the United States Constitution which guaranteed women suffrage, or the right to vote. Join us at the library to view two exhibits commemorating the anniversary.

Toward a Universal Suffrage: African American Women in Iowa and the Vote For All

August 24-28, 2020

The year 2020 is the 100th anniversary of the ratification of the 19th Amendment. This amendment says the right to vote cannot be denied based on sex. This gave many women the right to vote. The contributions of African American women have often been excluded from the broader history. This exhibition documents their contribution to the suffrage movement in Iowa. The exhibition is supported by the Iowa State University College of Liberal Arts and Sciences Extension and Outreach; the Iowa State University Carrie Chapman Catt Center for Women and Politics; Humanities Iowa; the National Endowment for the Humanities; the Chrysalis Foundation; the Central Iowa Community Museum; the Iowa Department of Human Rights; and the Hard Won Not Done 19th Amendment Centennial Commemoration Project. Funding for Toward A Universal Suffrage is provided by the Iowa State University College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, Humanities Iowa, the National Endowment for the Humanities, and the Chrysalis Foundation.

On display throughout August

This new pop-up exhibit from the National Archives commemorates the 100th anniversary of the 19th Amendment. Explore the history of the ratification of this historic amendment, women's voting rights before and after, and its impact today. The exhibit is presented in part by the Women's Suffrage Centennial Commission and the National Archives Foundation through the generous support of Unilever, Pivotal Ventures, Carl M. Freeman Foundation in Honor of Virginia Allen Freeman, AARP, and Denise Gwyn Ferguson. The ratification of the 19th Amendment was a landmark moment in American history that dramatically changed the electorate.

"CAUGHT IN THE ACT" ACTIVITY BAGS

The library has contributed to the community "Caught in the Act" bags that will be passed out to kids doing good deeds in the area by Oelwein Police Officers. These bags are filled with fun items, coupons and loads of things to keep you doing good things to get "caught" and rewarded!

A big thank you goes to Decategorization (Decat) for helping to provide financial support for the activities.

On this project they partnered with Central Iowa Juvenile Detention and local libraries to make the Interaction Opportunities possible. Decat focuses on community planning and providing supports that promote overall child and family well-being.
